

YACHT RACING INTEREST KEEN

PLANS FOR LONG ISLAND SOUND MEET AROUSE ENTHUSIASM

NEW YORK, May 1.—There is evidence aplenty that Long Island Sound will witness this year the best season in the history of yacht racing. A number of new crafts will be added to the already large fleet, many of the older boats that have been out of commission for some time have been fitted out to join the handicap races, and interest is very keen.

One of the most striking features of the coming contests among the speedy sailing boats is the prevalence of the one-design craft, which has been growing more popular each year, and which now completely eclipses the open class boat.

Note, in fact, that apart from a few M. S. P. Q. and S. S. there is not one of open classes showing a sign of activity, while half a dozen new groups of monotypes and about a dozen of these already in the game promise regular attendance at all the coming regattas.

Of the former the nine 50-footers turned out by Herreshoff for various members of the New York Yacht Club are drawing most attention, for never before has so handsome and numerous a class taken the water in this country, but the seven 41-foot schooners built by Cox and Stevens for the Stamford Yacht Club have also aroused considerable comment. For they are in a way, a new venture. Besides these good-sized craft there will be seen several little sloops of 27 feet or less, ordered by yachtsmen of Longwood bay, and similar to the well-known Havelock class; 6 at least 14-footers to be sailed by the skippers of the Stamford Yacht Club and several relations in the star and long classes.

This means an increase of 30 or more sails to the one-design armada, which will carry over from last year probably two, possibly all three of the New York Yacht Club 55-footers—Aurora, Winsome and Isabella; about 15 of the famous "thirties" of the same organization; the full number of the "schoonerettes," a dozen or more of the Larchmont Interclub class, some of the American Yacht Club racabouts, the Stamford monotypes of old model, the Baybirds without exception, most of the Glen Cove Jewels, the Manhasset bay midsize sloops and swelling clusters of stars, bugs and American Yacht Club dories.

With all these craft in commission and the handicap fleet in full force it is confidently expected that the number of starts chronicled will exceed anything seen heretofore and any record flag should be attained at the important events.

Where pictures are cleaner, vaudeville more entertaining, music the sweetest and comfort the greatest, "The Grandest Grand."

Three Stars Who Are Expected to Send Pennant to Cubs

Heinie Zimmerman.

Roger Bresnahan.

Jimmy Archer.

Johnny Evers, new manager of the Cubs, and himself perhaps the greatest second baseman in baseball will rely largely on two great catchers and a great third baseman to win the National League pennant for the Cubs this year. He has Jim Archer and Roger Bresnahan, catchers and Heinie Zimmerman on third base.

Last year Zimmerman led the National League in batting, having a percentage of .372. Bresnahan, then playing in St. Louis, had a percentage of .333 while Archer batted .283. Unless Bresnahan has gone back he and Archer are the two best catchers in baseball. Either of them ought to be sufficient for one club.

When Bresnahan was catching for the Giants in New York he was counted among the three great men behind the bat, the others being Billy Sullivan of the White Sox and Johnny Kling of the Cubs. Then he went to St. Louis as a manager, but found it impossible to get along with Mrs.

Britton and her suffragettes. Zimmerman has been with the Cubs a long time, during which he acted as utility man. But since he has taken charge of third base he has become a star. Last year Archer batted .366, Bresnahan .374, and Zimmerman .317. While the old Cus machine under Frank Chance has gone to pieces, Evers, who succeeded the Peerless Leader, has in these great players and himself the nucleus of another as good.

The most splendid evenings are to be spent at the "Grand" seeing Amarillo's show of the higher type.

May Day Parade in Gotham.

NEW YORK, May 1.—May Day was observed in the metropolis today by the customary parade of the Socialist organization and various East Side trades unions. The parade started from Rutgers Square in the early afternoon and proceeded through Broadway and several other of the prominent downtown thoroughfares. Many a fine trade represented by men wearing distinctive uniforms. A feature of the bakers' division that attracted much attention was a wagon bearing a loaf of bread baked from twelve barrels of flour and a cake of like dimensions.

If you have a house for rent, as in the classified columns of the Amarillo Daily News will get results.

SEASON OPENED BY INTERSTATE LEAGUE

COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—This was the opening day of the season in the Interstate Baseball league, a practically new organization in the territory formerly occupied by the eastern end of the old Central League. The circuit comprises six of the old Central League cities, namely, Akron, Zanesville, Youngstown, Canton, Erie and Wheeling. The addition of Columbus and Steubenville gives the organization an eight-hole course. The American Association grounds when the A. A. team is away from home, which will give this city continuous baseball through the season.

The managers expected to pilot the Interstate clubs are: Akron, John Seigler, formerly of the Cincinnati Reds; Zanesville, Marty Hogan; Youngstown, Charley Hunt; Canton, Rade Meyers; Erie, Larry Guilan; Wheeling, J. Robinson; Columbus, Lee Ford, and Steubenville, Roy Montgomery.

Several of the cities in the league were hard hit by the recent floods, but despite this fact all of the club owners believe that the outlook is bright for a successful season and an interesting race for the pennant. The season will close September 16.
